RINGLING BROS.' SHOWS.

The JOURNAL takes pleasure in announcing that special arrangements have been made with transportation lines by which all who wish to attend the performances of Ringling Bros.' World's Greatest Shows, which exhibit at Bowling Green, Sat. May 9, can do so at greatly reduced excursion rates. Bowling Green will be the only place in this vicinity where this big show will exhibit during the season, and our readers should not miss the opportunity to see what is now beyond all comparison the largest and grandest combined circus, menagerie, hippodrome, spectacle and horse fair ever organized. The performances will be given in every particular the same as during the phenomenal three weeks' engagement of Ringling Brothers' Shows at the immense Tattersall's Amphitheatre in Chicago where press and public united in declaring the exhibition superior to any amusement enterprise in the world. In this community the name of Ringling Brothers is synonymous with all that is high-class in a amusement institutions; the show is itself a guarantee of its excellence. It begins with a glorious reproduction of the Festival of Olympus, a resplendent picture of the pomp and luxury of old Greece; then follows a superb circus programme, presented in three rings, two stages, in mid-air and upon a great quarter-mile, the whole enlisting the services of 300 celebrated performers, and hundreds of other people; and finally, a thrilling revival of the exciting sports, contests and races of the ancient Roman hippodrome bring to a close a performance the like of which has never before been presented to the American people. The capital invested in this stupendous show is over $3,500,000, and the daily expenses $7,450. Ringling Brothers have also made special efforts this year to give their street parade upon a scale of magnitude and beauty never before attempted. They have succeeded, and no one should fail to see this wonderful free street spectacle, which leaves the show grounds every morning between 9 and 10 o'clock and passes over the principal down-town streets. Information in regard to excursion rates, etc., can be secured from the local railroad ticket agents.
